

Why use LCMB?

The LCMB team have spent their working lives operating and constructing buildings, and possess the project, commercial, procurement, technical and organisational experience to help our clients maximum their buildings and estate capital investments.

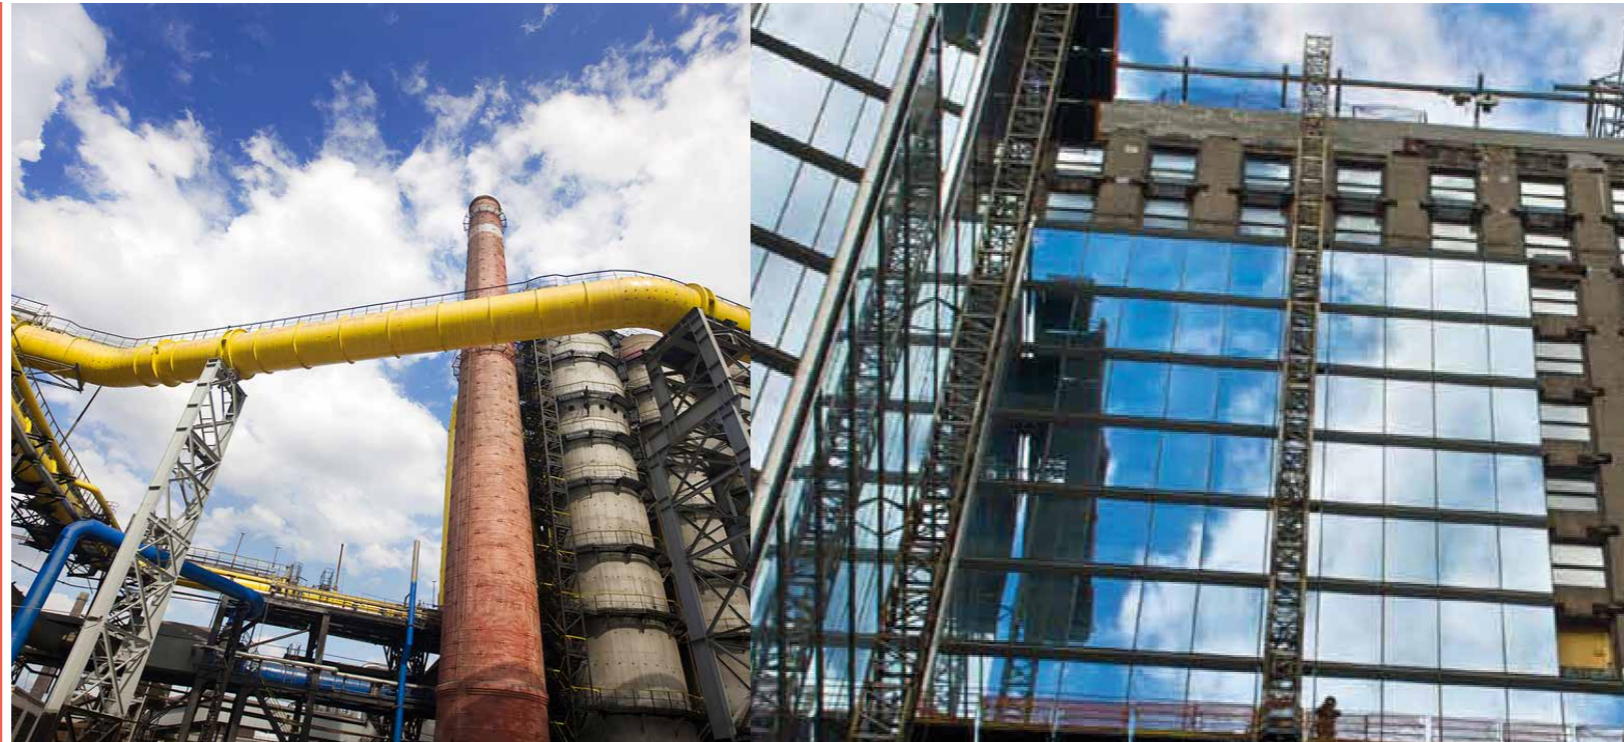

Our team understand how to make buildings work harder for your organisations because of our construction and Facilities Management experience as a contractor, client and consultant. This means we can put ourselves in your shoes and define the optimum solution for your requirements. We always deliver a return for our clients that far exceeds the cost of employing us.

What our clients say about us:

- Can do, results orientated
- Creative, innovative and fun
- Deliver more than they promise
- Make a real difference

For a free, no obligation consultation to explore how LCMB can make your capital investment work harder for your organisation please contact:

John O'Brien, Managing Director
 t: 01295 722823
 e: john@lcm.co.uk

Project Management - supporting your organisation to get the most out of your real estate, projects and capital investments

In today's business environment all businesses are under pressure to reduce cost and improve performance. At LCMB, our team have successfully delivered billions of pounds of building and infrastructure projects and have the skills to make your real estate and capital investments work harder.

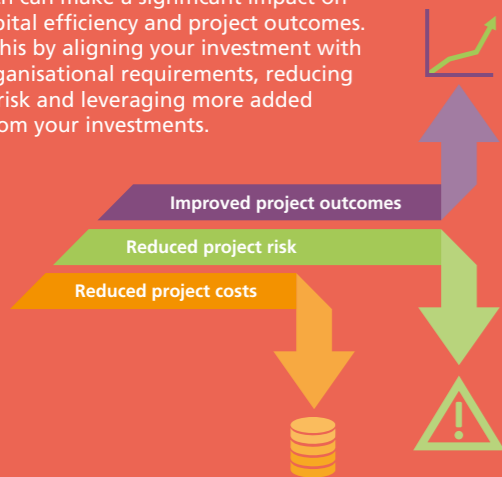

How can LCMB's project management methodology make a difference for your organisation?

Our research shows that more than 50% of refurbishment and other building projects fail to achieve their cost, time and quality outcomes and more than 60% do not deliver their strategic aims for clients. The LCMB team have experience of constructing, managing and operating billions of pounds of buildings and associated infrastructure across all sectors as client, consultant and contractor. This means we can help our clients ensure that their capital investments are efficiently project managed delivering the required outcomes in the most appropriate way mitigating risk and delivering the best possible value for money.

-  Airports
-  Commercial
-  Defense
-  Education
-  Healthcare
-  Industrial
-  Leisure
-  Process engineering
-  Public sector
-  Residential
-  Retail
-  Telecommunications and data

Our project management methodology and approach can make a significant impact on your capital efficiency and project outcomes. We do this by aligning your investment with your organisational requirements, reducing project risk and leveraging more added value from your investments.

What can we offer?

We provide an end to end project management services from project definition to project completion and post project support. Equally we can support our clients at any stage in the project cycle or step in to turn around poor performing projects or to give a strategic project specific help and impact at key stages.

How can we help?

